"We Will Ne'er Forget Thy Teachings . . ."

Alma Mater

Sons and daughters true and loyal
Join our song of cheer,
For our dear old High School royal
As we gather here,
We are filled with praises tender
And remembrance dear,
Ere our voices will defend her
Raised in accents clear.

Oh we love our dear old High School
And our classmates too,
Red and White shall be our emblem
Life's dark pathway through.
In our hearts are memories woven
By the passing year,
Friendship ties will ne'er be broken
Formed in S. H. S.

When we leave thy well-known portals
Never to return,
We will ne'er forget thy teachings
Be we far or near
When life's trials dark assail us
Right shall lead us on,
By the help of memories
And by God alone.

the present, and look forward to the future.

FOREWORD

Four years—four short years have raced by since we of '51 began our sojourn here at Souderton High School. Through those years we have lived, laughed, loved, and labored, exchanging moments of study, sacrifice and even fun for knowledge, unforgettable companions, and happy experiences.

Truly we are graduating in days of challenge and uncertainty. As you thumb these pages, we'd like you to travel back in time with us to the days of the Gay Nineties, and we hope you'll recapture some of the joys of that era, remembering that it is only by looking to the past that we are able to go forward profitably. We here reflect on the past half century of progress and tie up the days of "Reuben and Rachel" in this volume with the imprints of our high school experiences.

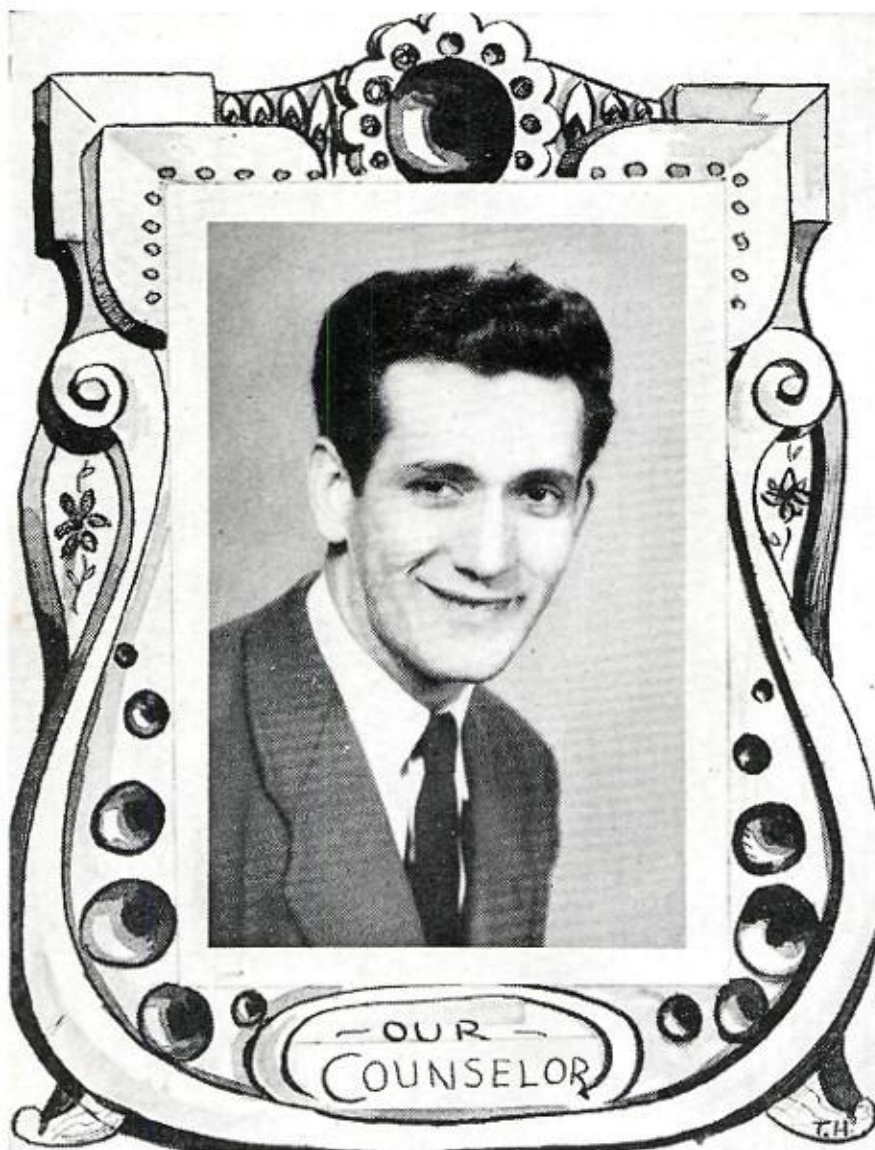

We present to you humbly, this, the Unaliyi of 1951, with the sincerest hopes that in the years ahead you will find it a source of enjoyment and inspiration.

WE

DEDICATE . . .

CARL J. MANONE

We, the class of 1951 of Souderton High School, proudly dedicate to Mr. Manone our issue of the Unaliyi.

As our Guidance Counselor he has done everything possible to make our high school days, days of pleasant memories and happy experiences. He has spent endless time and effort in guiding and advising Student Council and Key Club; and he has always cheerfully and sincerely discussed with individuals their many problems and plans for the future. Let him be assured that his help and advice shall never fade from our memories.

Mr. Manone whole-heartedly accepted the position of faculty editor of our yearbook, and his keen interest and cheerful assistance have been beyond compare. With his guiding hand we were not only able to produce these pages of the Unaliyi for 1951, but we were also afforded a world of pleasant and profitable learning experiences. For all these things we are, and ever will be, deeply grateful to him.

*We Thank * * **

We of the Unaliyi staff wish to thank all who contributed in any way to the success of our yearbook. Our sincerest appreciation and gratitude go to:

Miss Gerhart for directing and supervising the business and typing staffs in their efforts to make this book a success.

Mr. Manone for his helpful suggestions, time, and endless effort in editing our annual.

Mr. Crouthamel who made it possible for us to complete the yearbook on school time, and who on countless occasions, offered assistance in our individual and class problems.

Mr. Rosenberger for his cooperative spirit in planning this annual, and for his patience and understanding manner in working with us during our high school stay.

Miss Supiro, Mr. Heisler, and Mr. Hulsizer, our Senior class advisers, for their patience and help.

Miss Treichler for her assistance to the art staff.

Mr. Gazdick, whose printing "know-how" solved many of our yearbook problems.

The other members of the faculty for their assistance and cooperation.

The many underclassmen whose efforts helped to make our sales drive a record-breaking success.

Mr. James Kline for his contributions to our yearbook photography.

Mr. Ray Albright of the Penn Studio of Photography.

Mr. Earl M. Schaffer and his associates of the Lehigh Printing Corporation.

Mr. A. G. Sharp of Horan Engraving Company, Incorporated.

Mr. G. R. Conover and The S. K. Smith Company, who furnished our yearbook covers.

Board of Education

To the Members of the Class of 1951:

This is your day. You have a right to feel proud of having finished what you have set out to do and to accept your diplomas with satisfaction. As President of the Board of Education I want to congratulate you and your parents who have made this achievement possible.

We of the Board believe that you are starting out well equipped with the skills, ideals, and citizenship for which there is so definite a need in this restless and confused era. Such preparation is necessary and important for progress and happiness, but greater than all will be your attitude of mind and heart toward your work and your associates.

The proudest and most rewarding moments that come to us as Board members are those when we hear that Souderton graduates are doing well the work or duty that has become their lot, and it is then that we feel repaid for our efforts in their behalf. We stand ready to encourage your advancement, and we wish you Godspeed and many happy years ahead.

Paul M. Hunsicker
President, Board of Education

Principals' Messages

E. M. CROUTHAMEL
Supervising Principal

Greetings, Class of the Mid-Century:

You enter a new world in an era of prosperity. Business is booming. The stock market is zooming. In these days of unprecedented and widespread prosperity there is also growing self indulgence and weakening will power. The Sabbath is desecrated, crime increases, the one arm bandit allures and inveigles and liquor flows freely. It is time to emphasize the importance of character and clean living.

As you leave the halls of Souderton High School determine to make your life successful. Take time to work; it is the price of success. Thus you will be a credit to your Alma Mater, of whom we can always proudly say, a graduate of Souderton High School.

E. M. Crouthamel

Class of 1951:

You are approaching the time of departure from Souderton High School. Shortly, when referring to us and it, you will speak in the past tense. I wonder how you will remember your school experience in after years. I hope that it will be with pleasant recollections of skills and truths learned, friends made, and rewards honestly earned. I want to extend to each of you my congratulations and best wishes for the future. Your school, community, and nation need your loyal support as adult citizens.

Class Philosophy

These are challenging days! Everywhere there seems to be gloom, disorder, restlessness and boredom; yet, this cannot be the total picture. There must be an answer! We of '51 believe such a small thing as a SMILE can be a big thing. Yes, we maintain a smiling philosophy can do much to dissipate cloudy skies and help us to recapture the GAITY OF THE NINETIES.

SMILE. A smile costs nothing, but gives much. It enriches those who receive, without making poorer those who give. It takes but a moment, but the memory of it sometimes lasts forever. None is so rich or mighty that he can get along without it, and none is so poor but that he can be made rich by it. A smile creates happiness in the school and home, fosters good will in business, and is the counter-sign of friendship. It brings rest to the weary, cheer to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and it is nature's best antidote for trouble. Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed, or stolen, for it is something that is of no value to anybody until it is given away. Some people are too tired to give you a smile. Give them one of yours, as none needs a smile so much as he who has no more to give.

"All's well that ends well" is the unspoken thought of every member of the Unaliyi staff. We have worked hard to produce a book worthy of taking its place among — yes, even excelling perhaps — the previous twelve fine editions of the Unaliyi.

Much credit goes to our capable, hard-working editor, Janice Alderfer, who by her tireless efforts kept the staff running in a smooth, business-like manner. Words of praise also go to our two faculty advisers, Miss Gerhart and Mr. Manone, who unselfishly gave of their time and knowledge whenever it was needed. Mr. Manone, working hand in hand with us, helped us both with his advice and popular brand of moral support. Miss Gerhart willingly devoted countless hours of diligent work to the numerous phases of behind-the-scene yearbook production.

As you read these pages, now or in the future, we trust you will again capture a breath of the atmosphere and activity that surrounded the good old days at Souderton High School.

And The Band Played On

The hometown band of the Nineties, we feel, is a far cry from the Souderton High Band under the direction of Maestro Maurice Foulke. Ours is a fine musical organization and this year is composed of forty-five members. The rhythmic music-makers march at every football encounter, and they add thrill and excitement to basketball games with their colorful half-time formations. Besides their performances at athletic events, they present two annual concerts with the Senior and Junior Choruses, one at Christmas and the other in the Spring.

The band, through its participation in many local area parades, has won numerous honors and prizes. Prizes, in the form of cash awards, are placed into a special band fund used to purchase new and much-needed instruments.

Special recognition must also go to our four snappy majorettes and six high-stepping color guards who did such a splendid job working with the band. Our hats are off to Mr. Foulke for his untiring efforts in developing a real musical team of which we are all justly proud.

All is right that starts right, and every day was right for the two score upper classmen who made up our 1950-51 chorus. Raising their voices in choral chant each school day morning, these students had surely found the formula for effectively combining pleasure with real learning.

Music With A Smile

Responsible for making chorus such an attractive subject was Mrs. Lockwood, who was always full of spirit and ideas. It was she who made it possible for the chorus members to see their first authentic opera, "The Barber of Seville."

Being a member of the chorus was truly a valuable experience. To be sure, a better understanding and appreciation of music was gained by all who took part. The chorus, with the band, presented impressive Thanksgiving and Christmas programs, and also a Spring Concert. In addition it made numerous appearances at churches of the community, parent-teachers' meetings, and neighboring schools throughout the year. Souderton High School has a right to be proud of its chorus.

Senior Assembly Will Please Come To Order

This familiar quotation may be heard every three weeks as the president calls to order another meeting of the Senior Assembly. The purpose of this organization is to create and present interesting and educational programs. These programs vary in nature and are planned by the Assembly officers with the encouraging aid of Miss Weinert, faculty adviser. Sometimes the program takes the form of a musical show, a play, or a quiz. At other times it may carry a more serious note, as commemorating the lives of our national heroes, or our own local boys who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

Senior Assembly provides students with excellent opportunities to practice parliamentary procedure, to acquire stage experience, and to entertain their fellow classmates.

The Assembly generally meets every three weeks. That it is a bright hour in the lives of the Souderton students is clearly shown by the fondness with which they always anticipated and greeted those Wednesday morning programs.

Student Council

Behind the scenes at S. H. S. there is a governing body which has come to play a vital part in the life of each and every student. The council, under the very capable supervision of Mr. Manone, is composed of representatives from each class, each homeroom, and the various school organizations.

This year, as in previous years, the council had a busy program of activities which included the March of Dimes campaign, collection of Christmas cards, and the sponsorship of the "Tide of Toys" for the American Legion.

To promote citizenship, courtesy, and school spirit, the council started a new project called "Citizen of the Week." Each week a student was elected by the Student Council for having done some notable act of merit.

Our Student Council is young; it is growing. It certainly is on the move!

A Key of Service

Key Club is a school service organization formed through the cooperation of the Kiwanis Club. Membership in the Key Club is limited to those students who possess high character, good scholastic ability, and worthy traits of leadership. Key Club was organized two years ago and since that time it has sponsored dances, sold refreshments, polished rails and taken a leading hand in presenting a community minstrel. Mr. Manone is the faculty adviser of the organization.

This Way, Please

This year twenty-four pretty junior girls were chosen to serve as ushers at the various school activities. Theirs was the job of extending greetings, smiling, and showing courtesies to the many people who visited with us. For everyone they had a cheery "hello." Not only did they help to sell Souderton High School to the public, but they also added a touch of beauty to such school functions as band and chorus concerts, school plays, Open House, Baccalaureate, Class Day, and Commencement. We salute you, girls! You've done a grand job!

*Jokes, puzzles, stories and such,
Give the INDIAN ECHO the master's touch.*

Indian Echo

The third year of publication of the Indian Echo, our school magazine, proved to be as successful as the two preceeding ones. This year the magazine had a new sponsor, Mr. Bold, who proved himself highly capable. His effective direction plus the splendid cooperation of all members of the staff resulted in Indian Echoes that were both gay and lively.

The magazine, as in years past, was made up of sports articles, short stories, poetry, editorials, puzzles, and jokes. Almost everyone commented on the interesting stories and the humorous jokes. The staff always encouraged the student body to contribute material by sponsoring essay and short story contests. In this way opportunities for writing were afforded all students.

Mr. Gazdick, who had charge of the printing, and Miss Treichler, who supervised the art work, helped tremendously to make our Indian Echo a real credit to the school.

When I Was Green

As curtain time drew near on November 4, all members of the cast were busy putting the final touches on their costumes, while Miss Fisher and Miss Weinert were also kept busy making final preparations. Everyone took his place on the stage, the curtain opened, and the long-awaited moment finally arrived!

Things began to happen when Gatesworth Bleacher attempts to "Give the World a Boost Through Friendship." He starts on Ann, his oldest sister, who is trying to get a contribution from Roger Martindale for the community chest. Gatesworth, thinking she is in love with Roger, persuades him to come to the Bleacher home some evening. Logan Ellsworth, Ann's fiance, becomes jealous and leaves Ann to go with Winnie McGuire. Ann in turn falls in love with Roger.

While all this is going on, the garage apartment is rented to Henderson Elliott, a businessman, who wants to place an order with the Frazier Company, the company, Mr. Bleacher represents. Gates mistakes Mr. Elliott for a blackmailer and tries to get rid of him. Among other things he puts dye in the shower head causing Mrs. Elliott to turn blue after taking her shower. He also pours a bucketful of water on Mr. Elliott. More and more trouble and complications follow. Gatesworth almost succeeds in getting rid of Mr. Elliott. When Mrs. Drinkwater, Mr. Elliott's boss, comes to visit the Bleachers, everything is settled and Mr. Bleacher gets the order.

Sit down, relax, and dream a little . . . It is Saturday evening, March 4, 8:00 p.m. Last minute preparations have been made, and the members of the cast are nervously taking their places on the stage. The last notes of the organ music are dying away, the lights are being dimmed, and the curtain is slowly rising.

There is commotion in the Tennyson household. Dan, the family genius, has suddenly resigned from Mr. Latherby's quiz program and from all of his school activities. His reason, he states, is personal. As a result of his action, Dan's parents refuse to let him take the College Board exams before graduation.

Meanwhile Jackie, Dan's kid brother, is having troubles of his own. His gang—Jeannie, Carla, Linda and Puff—are all excited about Puff having failed his exams. As a result, he will not be eligible for the coming big track meet. The gang reluctantly asks Dan to coach Puff so that he might pass. Dan, however, proposes a deal. He will coach Puff on the one condition that the gang makes him popular, and that it gets Linda, his pride and joy, to be his steady.

In the meantime, Dan's parents have arranged for him to take the college entrance exams. Dan intentionally fails them in order to stay at home with Linda. But things turn out differently than he expected. Puff is "mentally cured" and thus becomes eligible for the track meet. Linda, meanwhile, has passed her exams and is college bound. This adds more confusion to the existing confusion, and we find Dan also greatly interested in going to college.

A psychiatrist comes to see Dan and expects to find a moron because of the results of his intelligence test. After talking with Dan, the doctor discovers that he has deliberately answered all the questions incorrectly. To do that requires a knowledge of the right answers. Dan is not a moron; he is a genius! He is permitted to retake the exams!

Hip, Hip, Hooray!

Reading by the clock: B. Kratz at two, B. Keyser at four, P. Slotter at six, J. Eshelman at eight, and S. Kile at eleven.

Yea team, fight! — with that battlecry a spirit of strength, courage, and determination was set afire within the players and spectators who represented the cause of Souderton High School in the world of sports throughout the year. Sounding the battlecry were five pretty and peppy Indian cheerleaders — Captain Peggy Slotter,

Betty Kratz, Shirley Kile, Joyce Eshelman, and Barbara Keyser. These dashing young maidens provided the spark that often lead to victory. Truly, they were Souderton's favorite five.

Nice going, girls! This time the students of Souderton High School cheer and salute you — hip-hip-hooray, hip-hip-hooray, hip-hip-hooray!

J. Hillegass, D. Gehman, Mr. Miller, adviser.

Strike The Arc!

As the lights dim and the applause dies down we all comfortably relax in our seats to enjoy another thrilling movie, that is, all except the hard-working group of fellows known as the Audio-Visual Club. This organization, headed by Mr. Miller, was formerly composed of only a few helpers, but this year it has grown into a fair-sized organization of seventeen fellows who are interested in learning the A-B-C's of motion picture projection. Although most of the boys were just learning, we were fortunate to have two licensed operators, David Brady and James Seese, in this group.

In addition to the regular movie projection work, this club handled the lighting and amplification for plays, dances, basketball and football games, and many other school activities. It also projected the educational movies to about 6000 students for various subject-matter classes.

During the past year Souderton High School has made great strides in showing better and more recent films. Two new DeVry portable projectors were secured, and four classrooms were equipped with dark curtains. To Mr. Miller and his boys, who seldom get the spotlight, the student body extends a hearty thank you for a job well done.

September, 1950, stepped to the Souderton stage and the spotlight, once again, was focused on football and all the thrills, chills, and spills that go into a season of gridiron entertainment. Our Red and White Indians, though not impressive from the won-lost standpoint, did register favorably when it came to sportsmanship, determination, and spirit.

This year's eleven won only one league game, a seven to six victory over Quakertown, in a hard fought, closely contested thriller. Another highlight of the season's scoreboard was a twenty to six victory over Jenkintown in a non-league contest. The season's scorebook, however, did not tell the entire story. Although the fellows did not have a winning team they were always in there fighting.

Putting the boys through the paces this year and teaching them the rudiments of the game were the sizable responsibilities that fell upon the shoulders of our popular coaching staff composed of Head Coach Barndt, and Assistants Patton and Boorse. To them and to their boys, our hats are off!

The following fellows received their well-earned football letter:

James Bishop—center . . . reliable pivot man . . . really put his best into the game . . . excellent line backer.

**Paul Gerhart—guard . . . master mind in calling defensive signals . . . plenty of spirit and aggression.

David Musselman—guard . . . hard blocker . . . always in there fighting.

Merrill Moyer—guard . . . husky lineman . . . could really open up the holes.

Brooke Moyer—guard . . . capable sophomore . . . valuable in a reserve capacity.

Richard Farr—guard . . . tall and rangy . . . also used as a reserve.

Herbert Harris—tackle . . . always reliable . . . conscientious in carrying out assignments.

Willard Price—tackle . . . fastest man on the squad . . . usually seen in opponent's backfield.

Robert Godshall—end . . . six feet, one and a pass receiver every inch of the way . . . fine blocker.

*Dennis Trumbore—quarterback . . . deceptive ball handler . . . team strategist . . . clever defensive safety man.

Richard Frantz—quarterback . . . accurate passer . . . fine prospect for next year.

Conrad Schaffer—halfback . . . shifty runner . . . three-year man . . . liked to crack that line.

Dale Smoot—halfback . . . fine first-year man . . . hard runner . . . plenty of drive.

Stanley Erney—halfback . . . hopeful future material . . . fine defensive halfback.

Richard Godshall—halfback . . . drive and speed galore . . . elusive broken field runner.

Laverne Clemens—fullback . . . one of the best punters in the Bux-Mont League . . . aggressive line backer.

Walter Way—fullback . . . first-year man with much promise for the future . . . hard driving wingman.

**Second team all Bux-Mont

*Honorable mention all Bux-Mont

Cinderella Lakers

This season our basketball team did not win a championship. It did, however, provide us with plenty of exciting and breath-taking moments. With only one letterman returning, the team did much better than pre-season predictions had indicated. While the season scoreboard showed a record of seven wins against nine losses, it did not reveal the determination and courage which made this year's team one of the "fightingest" in S.H.S. history. Everyone who attended the Doylestown game will never forget the terrific battle waged that evening. Our Red and White Indians, trailing through most of the game, surged ahead in the closing seconds to gain a 46-45 upset.

The students of Souderton High School will also always remember the fine exhibition of sharp-shooting and ball-handling that our boys displayed in the Upper Moreland game. The Bears, who up to that time had been undefeated, were the last to surmise that they were in for a grueling game and their first setback of the year. When the smoke cleared, Souderton was celebrating the Bux-Mont season's most cherished win.

Captain Kenny Nase, paced the team in all departments. His 272 points in 17 league contests elevated him to the honor of high scorer in the entire Bux-Mont League.

To Coach Eisenhart go our high praises for taking a lot of green material and developing it into something worth cheering about.

The following fellows earned their letters:

Kenneth Nase—guard . . . captain . . . Bux-Mont scoring king . . . expert ball-handler . . . first team, All-Bux-Mont.

Harvey Hallman—guard . . . good rebound man . . . fine playmaker.

Murray Alderfer—center . . . scored from his pivot post . . . alert rebound man.

Ferrill Alderfer—forward . . . promising sophomore . . . fine hustler and scrapper . . . set shot specialist.

Ronald Godshall—forward . . . left handed push-shot artist . . . received honorable mention, All-Bux-Mont.

Take Me Out to the Ball Game!

There is the crack of a bat, the sound of the ball banging into the catcher's mitt . . . strike three, and another baseball season has begun.

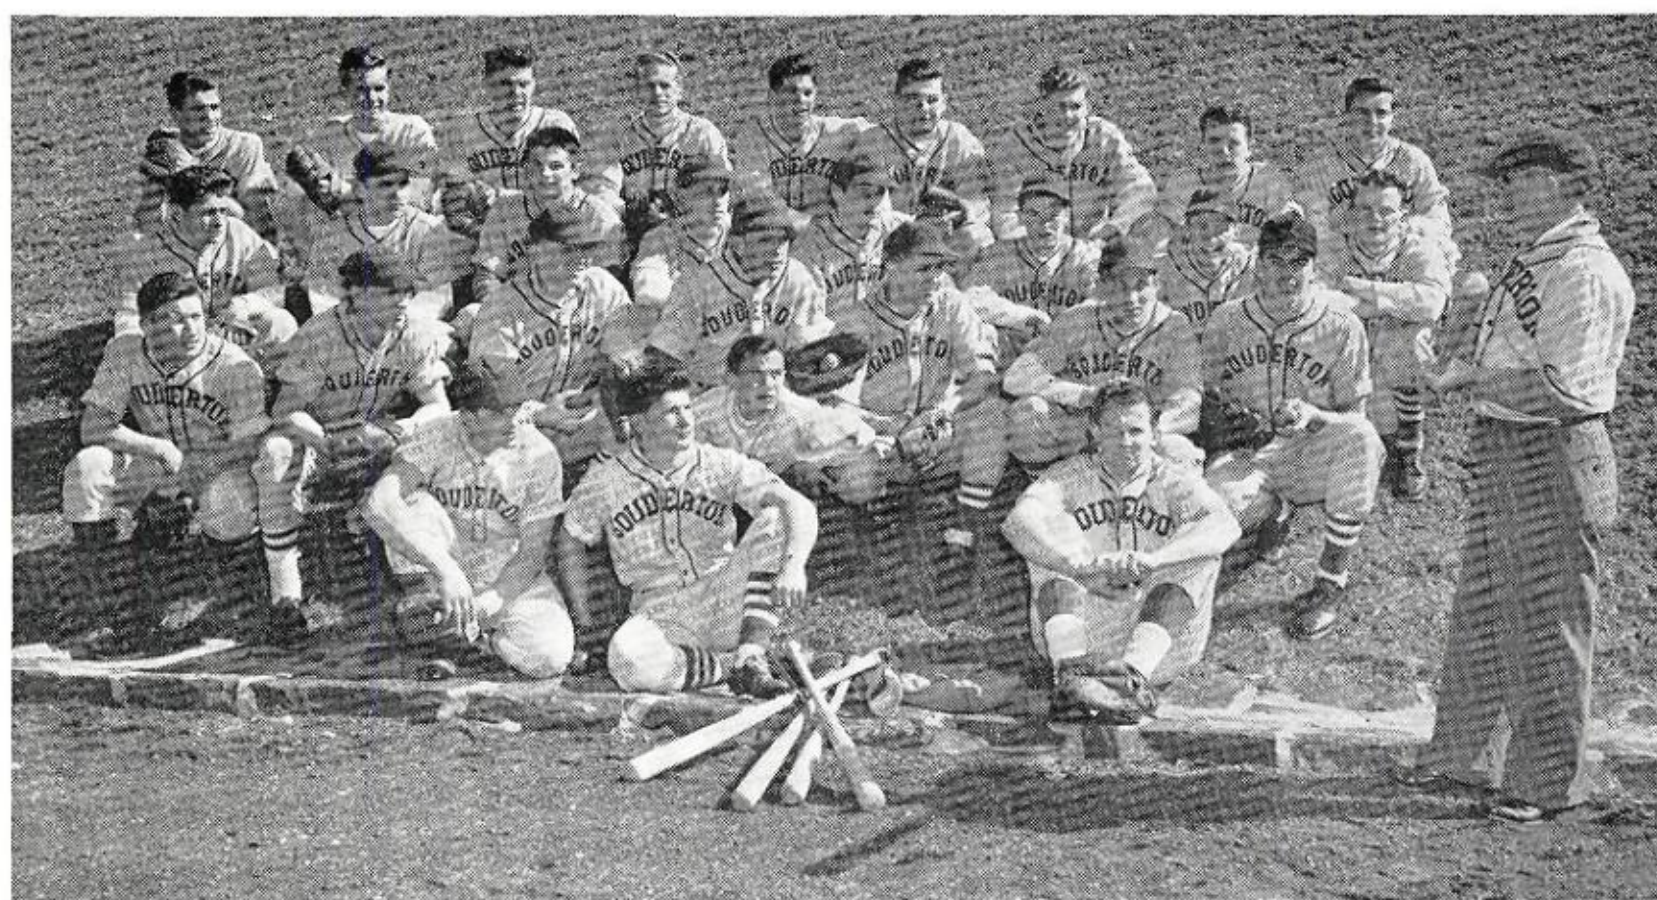

With a turnout of 30 fellows, including many from junior high, Coach Smoot and the fellows are looking forward to a very good season.

The pitching staff is headed by veterans Butch Clemens and Ronny Godshall. John Bergey, Ferrill Alderfer, and Robert Kramer also do their share of the tossing. Behind the plate is Ken Nase, who is backed up by Arlin Lapp and Herman Metz. Trying out at first base are Merrill Moyer, Walter Way, Jim Bishop, and Tony Drabnis. The other three infield positions will be filled by three returning lettermen. At second base is Dale Smoot assisted by Don Benner, Robert Landis, and Bob Bergey. Robert Shisler will hold down the shortstop position. At third base will be Bob Poinsett understudied by Ronald Moyer. Seeking starting positions in the outfield will be Denny Trumbore, Murray Alderfer, Kenny Hunsicker, Robert Godshall, Robert Henning, Herman Landis, Carl Metz, Bruce Fenstermacher, Glenn Moyer, Ralph Moyer, Russell Umstead, and Larry Landis.

Get Ready, Set, Go!

On your mark, get set, bang! They're off, and if you look closely you'll undoubtedly see a red Indian head on the shirt of the fellow in the lead.

Approximately twenty-five fellows answered Coach George Patton's track call this year. Returning veterans from last year's squad were Richard Breisch, star miler and manager for this season; Jimmy Eshelman and Dick Sell, two promising young milers; Herb Harris, 440 yard pacemaker; Leslie Vincent and Richard Godshall, veterans of the 100 and 220 yard dashes; Joe Pullen, broadjumper; and Laverne Clemens, master of the shotput.

A group of newcomers consisting of Kenneth

Moyer, Robert Ziegler, Jim Derstine, Gerald Koffel, Ferrill Alderfer, Bruce Fenstermacher, and Ralph Moyer rounded out the team.

The season's scores are not yet on the books, yet we know that whether our boys are breaking the tape in the lead or eating cinders bringing up the rear, they'll be in there displaying all the grit and determination that characterize Souder-ton High athletes.

Captains Ready?

The 1950 hockey season is now a matter of history. Although the team achieved but one victory, each game was played with enthusiasm and determination to win. The team, despite the record, always provided plenty of worry and contention for opponents. Many of the girls had gone to hockey camp and it was the usual thing to see the girls working long and hard at practices. The team was greatly inspired by the fine coaching and patience of its coach, Miss White.

The second team, for its fine record of four wins and one loss, also deserves a congratulatory note of recognition.

The following girls received the letter "S" as formal avowal of their hockey participation:

Gloria Wasser, captain, right fullback—rarely missed the ball . . . could dribble as well as drive.

Betty Kratz, right wing—played with enthusiasm and fight . . . worked well with team mates.

Susan Burtnett, manager—scorekeeper at games . . . loyal rooster at all times.

Third row: Miss White, coach, J. Alderfer, manager, S. Kile, R. Derstine, K. Keeler, B. Frederick, E. Hallman, A. Troxel, D. Edelman, assistant manager.

Our Indian maidens are really to be congratulated for this season's achievement, for, together with Quakertown, they shared league championship honors. The fine teamwork and cooperation displayed by each member of the squad made for all-around exciting and entertaining basketball.

With only two lettermen returning, early season prospects did not look too bright. The girls, however, turned the tables on public opinion, registered seven wins against a lone set-back, and qualified as co-champions of the Girls' Bux-Mont League.

NOW LISTEN, GIRLS!

Root, Root, Root, for the Home Team

Hand in hand with the first signs of spring came the long-awaited baseball season. The turn in the weather brought with it a crew of anxious, raring-to-go girls who were eager to take their positions on the inviting baseball diamond.

The girls' first big job, working out their kinks, took but a few days. Regaining their old form and skill took a little longer. During the first weeks of practice it was a common sight to see misjudged fly balls, strike-outs, and head-on collisions.

Game time or the season's opener, at the time of this writing, has not yet arrived. Yet, the lively spirit and teamwork displayed by the girls at the practice sessions give us good reason to believe that the girls' 1951 baseball season will be an outstanding one.

This year Coach Irene White will have the services of six returning lettermen, who are bound to see lots of action throughout the season. They are Lois Clemmer, captain and third base; Janet Bickel, center field; Ruth Derstine, pitcher; Beverly Opdyke, catcher; Kathleen Kramer, right field; and Margie Koffel, left field.

Football

There's a first time for everything, and 1950 marked the first time that a football championship came to Souderton High School. Passing, punting, and ploughing, the "Mighty Men of Maza" rode through a four-game schedule to capture the 1950 Junior High Bux-Mont gridiron trophy.

To Coach Maza and his boys, therefore, go congratulations for a job well done. Their fine showing this season gives good promises for better Souderton varsity football teams in the future.

In addition to team honors, the following boys on the squad won for themselves individual laurels by their election to the All-Bux-Mont Junior High first team: Robert Famous, Harry Coyle, Merrill Brown, Otto Quinque, Lester Strouse, and Richard Gerhart.

Basketball

A 43-23 victory over the Junior Quakertonians brought to a close the "hot and cold" 1950-51 basketball campaign of our Baby Indians.

Although our boys were often outscored, they always showed lots of fight and spirit. What they lacked in experience they compensated for in determination and teamwork. After dropping their first five games they suddenly came to life to defeat Hilltown, Sell-Perk, and Quakertown in rapid order.

The team's high scorer was Lester Strouse, center, who tallied 114 points. He received plenty of good backing from his teammates Harry Coyle, Robert Famous, Larry Landis, Philip Seese, and Dennis Hunsberger.

The team ended the season with a record of three wins and seven defeats. Coach Maza did a splendid job of instructing them in the fundamentals of the game. To Mr. Maza, we wish the best of luck in '52.

Baseball

With the arrival of Spring, Coach Maza is again looking forward to another successful baseball season. Even though no veterans are returning the picture looks somewhat bright in the light of the talent displayed during the first two weeks of practice. As in previous years, much of the playing will be furnished by out-of-town boys. To Mr. Maza and his boys we say, "Good luck and good hitting!"

Oh, What a Strange World!

It all started away back in 1947. There were about 150 of us then. We were young, we were bewildered, and my, how many problems and troubles we had!

Some of us were old-timers, we had already spent two long years at S. H. S., but most of us were not so fortunate. From our frontier outposts in Harleysville, Tylersport, Telford, Franconia, Elroy, and even Vernfield, we had set out to blaze new trails in learning, enjoyments, and companionship. We now found ourselves in a new, stupendous citadel of learning. Everyone called it Souderton High School. My, how strange everything was!

Yes, strangeness was the order of the day. We were green and how well we knew it! Fortunately, however, the days passed quickly. Our questions, doubts, and fears were going up in smoke. We were learning the ropes. A more hopeful era lay ahead.

So Far, So Good

It was September, 1948! Those strange and empty feelings of a year ago now definitely belonged to the past. We were Sophomores! Our old feelings of fear and insecurity had now given way to a new enthusiasm and eagerness. Yes, eager we were! With spirit and fire we plunged headlong into more and more school activities. We had talents and we wanted others to know about them.

This was also a year of friendships. Hello's were becoming more warm, and smiles more frequent. Cupid even put in an appearance.

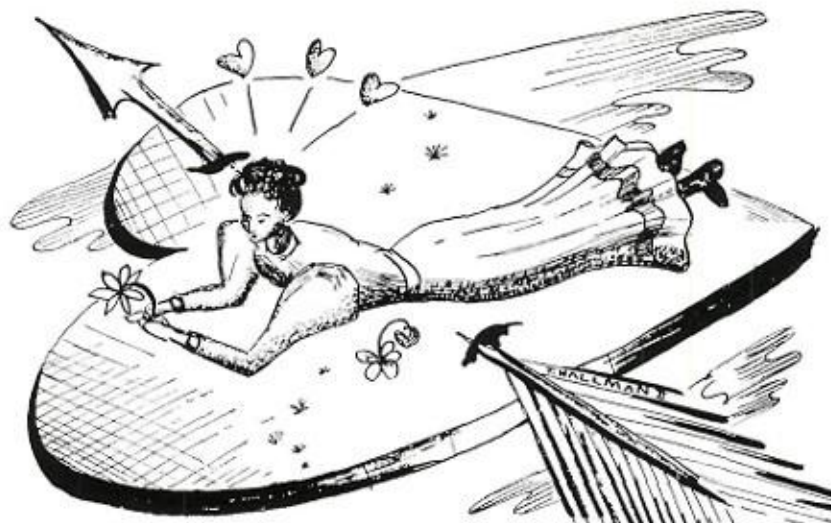

The year of 1948-49, too, was one of academic bewilderment. More elective subjects than ever appeared on our rosters. What subjects they were! We'll never forget the "amo," "amas," "amat" of Latin I. We wanted to know Latin, but we wanted to know the important words first. And then there was plane geometry. My, what a strange subject! First you had to draw a circle, and then you proved to everyone else that it was a circle.

Yes, there were still other new subjects. What fun it was for us to play doctor in biology class by operating on that lowly specie of the Amphibia Class — the frog. We thought we were doctors, but our unfortunate victims never recovered.

Home economics and typing we must not forget either. Room 209 shall ever be remembered as the kitchen of measuring cups, recipes, and dirty dishes, while Room 205 was just as famous. We'd never heard of typewriters with unmarked keys. Our "hunt and peck" days were truly at an end.

Our silly, sophomore days were just about at an end, too. June no longer was just around the corner; it was here! With sighs of relief our dreams now shifted to summer, sunshine, and swimming.

Upward, Ever Onward

The days of summer vacation, sunshine, and swimming soon came to an end. Before we knew it, September was knocking on the door. School bells were ringing and we Jolly Juniors, a hundred strong, were again hitting the books. It was two down, two years that is, and two to go.

October came, and with it came our Hallowe'en Square Dance. It was our first social affair for the Junior Class. How much fun it was! We all wore dungarees, and at long last our bashful boys began dancing.

Through wintry November and December we were busy making plans for the annual Christmas Dance, which we decided to call "Snow Flake Fiesta." We had never sponsored a dance before, and thus we were quite a bit on edge. However, we all put our shoulders to the wheel, and when dancing time arrived we surprised even ourselves by the wonderful job we had done. Certainly we shall all remember that memorable evening. We shall always remember, too, that December had much more in store for us. It brought us our coveted class rings. How excited we were; how proud we were to wear them!

Our next important event was the pie and cake sale in April. We found it was a lot of fun. Soliciting pies and cakes and selling them was a new and pleasant experience. The sale was truly a success, and when all was over and done, our bank book was singing "April Showers" to the tune of more than $600.00.

Junior Day was the next highlight on our class agenda. We would never think of allowing the seniors to leave for Washington without a royal send-off. At 5:45 in the morning we were at the train station — dungarees and all. With delight we wished them "bon voyage." Now our minds turned quickly to more important things. This was our day; we would make the most of it! First, we hiked to Howard Johnson's, then forlornly headed back to school. That evening, however, brought the climax: a doggie roast at Green Lane followed by a friendly, informal square dance at school. What a day!

The climax of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom. We chose "Waltz of the Flowers" for our theme. Since we had a little experience in planning a dance we were able to really make this one a big affair. In our estimation, it was the prettiest prom that had ever been given to a senior class in S. H. S. Preparing for the dance was loads of fun, almost as much as the dance itself. We realized as we danced away the hours among the flowers that this was good-bye to the seniors of '50 and that before too long, we would be the seniors of 1951.

At Long Last!

Then, alas, the closing year of our high school sojourn was upon us. Now we were seniors, and somehow our outlook on the future was changing. We were beginning to realize that someday soon our days of "readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic" would come to an end. We could hardly believe it, but graduation was there — just around the corner.

We had always heard many rumors about the senior year, and frankly, at times we were somewhat skeptical as to whether that last and final year could be as great as it was "cracked up" to be. But our skepticism soon departed. With our new subjects, semi-formal dances, senior pictures, class hats, name cards, class meetings, and graduation announcements, our senior days surpassed even our wildest expectations. The time was really flying, and we were flying with it.

Probably highest on the list of senior activities stood the publication of our 1951 Unaliyi. How hard we worked, and how much we learned! As seniors we hate to resort to bragging but somehow we do feel we did become experts in the "ins and outs" of yearbook production.

Then came Autumn. November was here, and this time we tried the stage. The result was a rollicking comedy entitled, "When I Was Green." The cast had a grand time, and the audience even laughed. We had made our theatrical debut — and successfully at that.

The Christmas Dance, "Snowman's Frolic," also deserves a note in passing. For all who danced among the evergreens and jolly snowmen, there was that tingling touch of Christmas that made our holiday complete.

Next in line was our second play production which the posters advertised as "The Perfect Idiot." The audience roared with laughter, and everyone, everywhere was high in praise of our own Richard Godshall, who gave a stellar performance. The climax of our high school life, the Washington trip, was now here. After years of anxious anticipation, W-Day finally arrived. We were off, bag and baggage, for three hectic and hilarious days in the nation's capital.

Another look around, and it was Souderton again. We were still burying our truck load of Washington souvenirs in our attics when the Junior class rang up the curtain on the 1951 Junior-Senior Prom. It was another memorable evening, and it provided stories galore or "dear diary."

Our days, however, were numbered. Four wonderful years at Souderton High School were history. Ahead of us was Baccalaureate, Class Day, and Commencement, but they would soon pass. What would not pass — and of this we were sure — would be the countless memories of things lived and learned at S. H. S. As we looked back we wished we had given and taken more. As we looked ahead we saw uncertainty and challenge. We were happy, though, for we knew God would see us through.

We Hereby Bequeath . . .

We, the Senior Class of 1951, realizing that we possess certain peculiarities, characteristics, and possessions, do hereby bequeath to our rightful heirs the following tokens for our remembrance:

Richard Gabel regrettably wills his "corny" sense of humor to Henry Garges.

Lloyd Koffel bestows some of his muscles upon Merlin Rosenberger who apparently could use them.

Arlene Fritz generously wills some of her brains to Donald Benner.

Gloria Grasse happily wills her silly giggle to supplement Shirley Moyer's cackle.

William Erb strongly desires that Dick Erb possesses his tiny tummy.

Kathryn Hagey, with best regards, offers her bangs to Kass Keeler.

Carlton Force sadly bequeaths his "dear" hunting pastime to all love-sick junior fellows.

Barbara Keyser willingly gives her gum-chewing ability to Elsie Small, who already has a technique of her own.

John Coughenour sadly surrenders his bottle of Vitalis to all junior boys with hair problems.

Richard and Robert Godshall wish their Buick to stay in the family so they pass it on to their brother, Arlin.

Gertrude Stiefel, with best wishes, leaves her prized car to the care of Stanley Erney.

Carl Weil sadly donates his hot jazz rhythm to Arlin Lapp.

Anna Schummer happily bestows upon Richard Dean her stony silence which is to be used mainly in study periods.

Kenneth Nase wishes to give John Bergey a few more pointers on playing basketball.

Shirley Allebach gives all the "excess" money to the school in general.

Kenneth Moyer generously gives a few inches of his height to Bobby Kelso.

Gerald Parvin bestows upon Paul Kissel his ability of imitating a nitwit.

Janet Gehman's typing skill is left to all junior commercials. Russel Koffel take note!

Since the rest of us seniors have no valuable gifts to bestow, we join in bequeathing to the junior class our near and dear homerooms — 206, 208, and 210. We also give you our collection of work-evading excuses, our knack of fun-making, and our fondest desires that you, too, someday may be elevated to the dignity of SENIORS.

In witness whereof, we, the class of 1951, the testators, have set our hand and seal hereto this first day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one (1951).

CLASS SONG

Words by S. Hunsicker
G. Grasse
Music by T. Hallman

As we leave our Alma Mater Never to return again,

Still the memories of our school days, Will come to us now and Then

Memories we will cherish Ones that will live long—

In our hearts as now we sing our graduation song

A Glimpse of the Future

Scre-e-e-ech! Wham! There was a loud crash, and people ran to their windows to see what had happened. What they saw was a new 1956 Buick convertible piled high against a tree.

A quick-thinking housewife ran to her telephone to call for the ambulance. People gathered around the wrecked car and helped the shaky driver out. Just then the ambulance roared up. Immediately, Dr. Kenneth Nase instructed the driver to lie down, and he began to examine him for possible injuries. Just about then he said, "Well I'll be — if this isn't Robert Landis! Robert, don't you recognize me?"

"Sure," said Robert, "you're Kenneth Nase and your nurse looks like — sure enough it is — Louise Cassel."

"That's who it is," said Nase. "You're lucky you weren't killed."

"Oh, I probably would have been," said Robert, "if I hadn't had my brakes fixed this morning at Lloyd Koffel's garage. You know he turned out to be a pretty good mechanic."

"By the way," said Dr. Nase, "Gerald Parvin's in the towing business. Maybe you can get him to tow your wreck over to Richard Gabel's junk yard."

With that Doc Nase walked up to the nearest house and knocked on the door. Betty Detweiler, or rather Mrs. Musselman, soon answered. After her kids got quiet enough to hear, Doc Nase asked if he could call the hospital. Betty gave a smile of approval but added that he would have to wait until the milkman, Warren Groff, finished phoning. In a few minutes Dr. Nase was calling the hospital. "I've got a patient," he said. "I'm bringing him in for observation and treatment."

Upon their arrival at the hospital, another physician, Dr. William Erb, gave Robert a closer check-up. As he lay in bed his eyes took in the pretty parade of passing nurses — Ethel Sell, Betty Snyder, Loretta Wasser, Lillian Rosenberger, and even Rena Landis. Just then Rev. Robert Ziegler walked in. In his arms was a beautiful bouquet of roses from Norrell Moyer's flower shop. State trooper, David Brady, also made his appearance, while getting the details of the accident. Then in walked a trio of sharp-clad Navy men — Joel Benner, Leslie Vincent, and Paul Kooker. They explained that the fourth member of their party, Russel Lewis, was still in the South Seas — engaged to a pretty Hawaiian girl.

After all his visitors had gone, Robert noticed that he had a roommate. To his surprise it was James Seese with his leg in a cast. Seese explained that he owned the Broad Theater and had tripped in the projection booth. Just then Ethel Lethgo, another nurse, brought in a basket of fruit from Laverne Clemens' grocery store and a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Connie Schaffer who now were the proprietors of the Souderton Steam Laundry. Later, Robert's eyes beheld an unbelievable sight; through an open window he saw a young acrobat dancing on a seven-story scaffold across the street and whistling as he swished his paint brush to and fro. The painter — you guessed it — was Hermie Landis.

Bad news, or should we say good news, travels fast. Into the room rushed Robert Henning, beaming brightly as he tried to sell Robert a life insurance policy. A news reporter, Patsy Alexander, also appeared on the scene. Pat, however, had to leave soon in order to interview Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gerhart who were setting out as missionaries to Ethiopia.

The following day when Mary Wampole, a student nurse, brought Robert his platter, she told him that the hospital purchased all its pork from John Coughenour's pig ranch. She added that the potatoes, beans, and corn came from Ronald Derstine's farm.

Robert was pleasantly surprised when he received his mail that day. He got an Overpeck get-well card. Ray was now a commercial greeting card designer. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Trumbore, joint owners of the Trumbore Filling Station, sent a card along with a picture of their twins. Dale Smoot, president of the Union National Bank, also sent a note of good cheer. Also in the mail were offers for Robert's car (what was left of it) from Mr. Kenneth Moyer, used-car dealer, and Mr. Harvey Hallman, proprietor of the Hallman Body and Fender Works.

Well, the weeks soon passed and now Robert was well enough to walk to the sun parlor to watch television. One afternoon he got a mild surprise when he recognized Joan Alderfer, Eileen Bucher, Joyce Eshelman, and Betty Kratz featured as ballet dancers.

Slowly the girls faded into nothing, and Robert waited for the commercial. To his surprise, however, the whole television set faded from sight. Robert turned a questioning glance towards a fellow patient who was sitting next to him. But to his horror, he also was gone. Robert's bewildered gaze came to rest on an alarm clock — his alarm clock! Slowly the truth dawned on him. Disgustedly he pulled up his covers tighter and tighter. "A dream, shucks," he muttered. And with that it was back to sleep — ah, sweet sleep.
